You may already know that the Muslim Brotherhood (MB) is an international terrorist organization, active in virtually every country in the world, that is working toward its publicly stated goal of establishing world-wide Muslim rule (a "caliphate") and imposing Shariah law. What you may not know, however, is that the MB has a large, well-funded organization active here in the United States and has a number of front organizations operating here in Oklahoma.

In the past several years, there has been a growing grassroots movement here in Oklahoma that has been working to educate people both inside government and out about the growing MB threat. What we have been doing here in Oklahoma has caught the attention of some national leaders. You may recall that in the last year alone, we've had retired General William Boykin, former commanding General of Delta Force, speak here in Oklahoma City; former CIA Director James Woolsey spoke out in favor of the ALAC bill at the High Noon Club; and we had a former FBI Counterterrorism Agent as well as an Army Major who formerly briefed the Joint Chiefs of Staff who did a two-day CLEET seminar on the threat of the MB for Oklahoma law enforcement officials from across Oklahoma. Currently, we are working on getting Congresswoman Michelle Bachmann to come to Oklahoma during the upcoming legislative session.

The next step we need to take is to set up a Counterterrorism (CT) Caucus in the state legislature. I have been approached to help set up the CT caucus. I believe that the first step we need to take is to put together a strong, like-minded Core Leadership group. I believe that you would be a valuable member of our Core Leadership group and I would like to ask you to consider joining us.

We have much to do. If you are interested in joining us, what we need to do is have a secure conference call with all interested members to discuss our plans and organizational structure. On the call we will also have an attorney from Washington, D.C. who travels around the country helping people get organized. I'm working out some last minute details but I'll contact you soon with the date, time and call-in info for our conference call.

Please feel free to call me if you have questions. I look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

P.S. When you reply to let me know if you're interested in joining us, please also give me several times during the next week or two that would be convenient for you for the conference call. Thanks!
